The collage consists of three vertical images. The left image shows a close-up of a dark, textured wall panel with warm lighting along its edges. The middle image is a framed landscape painting of a city skyline at night. The right image shows a modern interior space with a dark wood bar counter, a white pendant light, and a dark ceiling.
